

WOMEN'S LAW MASTERS DISSERTATIONS

Domestic violence in Zambia : in bed with a killer : police responses to domestic violence. Achiume, Paul C. - 86 p.

The woes of rural pregnant women in Tanzania : a case studies(!) of rural women in Morogoro community. Bankika, Margaret J. - 87 p.

Women in decision making positions within the public sector : a study of challenges and experiences for strategic intervention and law reform in Malawi. - Chakwana, Christobel Deliwe. vi, 79 p. + appendices.

Coping with unwanted pregnancies : the gruesome realities of illegal backdoor abortions in Malawi. Chamkakala, Masauko M.E. - xv, 99 p.

An analysis of the efficacy of the Zambian legal framework and other administrative measures to curb trafficking in young women from and through Zambia. Chisaka, Nsama Nkaka. - 77 p. + appendices.

Addressing gender-based violence in Malawi : an analysis of the factors delaying the passing of the proposed Prevention of Domestic Violence Bill. - Fletcher, Ruth M. v, 52 p. + appendices.

In search of relief for the rape victim : making the criminal justice system work for her. [Zimbabwe.] - v, 68 p.. Kabasa, Evangelista.

Exploring programme issues in meeting the right to adult basic education services in fishing communities : the case of Kalangala district. [Uganda.] - Kamya, Michael. 72, 19 p.

Women's access to potable water and sanitation as a human right : a case study of Alaska and Shackleton settlements in Chinhoyi, Zimbabwe. - Katsande, Rosalie K. 76 p.

A critique of the operation of the law in respect of the prosecution and trials of rape cases involving girls aged eight years and below in Zimbabwe. - Kudya, Lilian Farisayi. 66 p.

Is criminalization of commercial sex work in Uganda an answer? : a case study of commercial sex workers in Kampala. - Kyokunzire, Betty. xii, 92 p.

Rendered homeless by order : an analysis of gender implications of Operation Restore Order. [Zimbabwe.] - Mazambani, Delis. 71 p.

Gender sensitivity in drafting : beyond he and she. [Zimbabwe.] - Makomva, Benhilda. 66, 3 p.

Rural women's access to health service delivery in light of human rights and international conventions on health. [Zambia.] - Matakala, Musialela. 76 p.

A stumbling block or foundation builder : as assessment of the Ministry of Women Affairs in promoting women's rights in Zimbabwe. - Matizha, Caroline. 62 p.

An analysis of the efficacy of the law of marital rape in Zimbabwe. - Maunga, Mary A. vii, 58 p.

The quest for a gender sensitive budget : an analysis of the role of women parliamentarians during budget sessions in Malawi. - Mesikano, Charlotte Wezi. 85 p.

An analysis of masculine perspectives in HIV and AIDS laws, policies and programming for the realisation of women's health rights. [Zimbabwe.] - Mutama, Esther R. 67 p.

Children with disabilities and the right to education : experience from selected primary schools at Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. - Mwakyambiki, Sarah E. 100 p.

Chi liel : problematizing the social status of the 'Wife of the grave' in Luo customary tradition. [Kenya.] - Nyanjom, Jennifer. 100 p.

Investigating the gendered dynamics of women's access to voluntary testing and counselling in Malawi : a case study of Macro and Napham in Lilongwe. - Nyasulu, Dorothy. 92 p.

Domestic violence in Zambia : the prosecution of cases involving women suffering domestic violence in Ndola and Kitwe districts of Zambia. - Nyirenda, Abson. 76 p.

Privatization, commercialization of water services and its implication for women's access to and control of water : a case study of Njoro Community water project. [Kenya.] - Odeny, Millicent A. 75 p.

Culture and traditions among the Abagusii community influence the practice of genital mutilation : grounded notions and perspectives about male and female attitudes on how to maintain cultural identity without a cut. [Kenya.] - Ondieki, Evans. xxiii, 104 p.

Gender and sexuality in Kenyan education system : is history repeating itself? : an exploratory study of information on sexuality within Nakuru town. - Otieno, Anastasia. 82 p.

The socio-economic and legal position of domestic workers in Malawi : a case study of Zomba municipality. - Pendame, Lucius. vi, [3], 74, xii p.

Justice delayed is justice denied : the experiences of applicants for termination of pregnancy in rape situations under Termination of Pregnancy Act in Zimbabwe. - Rusere, Netty. 69 p.

Child custody in Tanzania : judicial implementation of the principle of the best interest of the child in matters relating to custody : a case study of court decisions from Ilala District, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. - Rweyemamu, Leticia V.K. xiii, 66 p.

A critical analysis of the pursuit of the feminist agenda through the experiences of women's legal rights organisations in Zimbabwe. - Siverigi, Joyce. 74 p.

An investigation into the law and legal response to acid attacks on individuals in the Kampala region of Uganda : what are the gendered social effects on the victims? - Wabwire, Anselm. 69 p.

Urban refugee settlements: A case of Kampala self-settled women refugees. [Uganda] Acar, Gregory 79p.

Access to clean water in the Southern Region of Mozambique and its implication to girls' right to education. Afonso, Irene da Oração 59p.

An assessment of the role of financial credit for rural women in extending their palm nut farms: The case study of South West Cameroon. Ashu Egbe, Hannah 70p.

Forest management in Zambia: A focus on women's access to forest resources management in chief Chiwala's area Masaiti District-Zambia. Chabala, Charles 65p

An analysis of legal and socio-economic realities confronting distillers and vendors of illicit liquor (Kachasu) in Zomba, Malawi. Kaluwa, Collen N. 74p

Papa I want to go to school : universal free and compulsory primary education under The Children Act 2001. Some of the barriers to achieving substantive equal access for the girl child in Kenya- A case study at Aic Kajiado School. Kang'ethe, Njeri 87p

A study of lives of sexually active teenagers and their access to contraceptive services in Lusaka (Urban) and Sesheke (Rural) Zambia. Kanyengo, Kakulwa B 70p

The problem of child labour in Tanzania. An explorative study of child labour in relation to fishing industry and related support activities in Iringa District of Tanzania: with specific reference to Mtera Dam. Kwariko, Mwanaisha A. 94p

Sexual harassment at the workplace- A case study of the Uganda Police. Kyomukama, Samuel 77p

Mandatory partner notification versus the right to confidentiality in HIV and AIDS: Balancing competing rights. [Zimbabwe]. Makoni, Catherine 75p

Traditional marriage counsellors and HIV/AIDS: A study of Alangizi National Association of Zambia in Lusaka. Mapala, Martha 78p

Gendered implication of access to clean water on the girl child: A case study in two rural villages in Ethiopia. Mekonnen, Hiwote. 76p

‘Kunze Kwachinja’ or ‘The weather has changed’ : women in formal and informal employment and the impact that earning wages and /or being an employer has on status, gender and family relationships – A case study of a small craft business in Harare, Zimbabwe. Mesu, Janita C 139p

A woman in the intersection: The conflict between civil and canon laws in relation to marriage and divorce in Tanzania: A case study of Arusha District. Mushi, Felistas J 83p

The endangered girl child : evaluating of the reporting procedures and environment of defilement cases in the Zambia police service. Muyongo, Paul M 71p

Legal assistance for indigent women: A critical analysis of services provided by Zimbabwe Women Lawyers Association in Bulawayo. Ncube, Sethulo 59p

The protecting of inheritance rights of women and men: The experience of Herero in the Erongo Region. Nghifindaka, N.A.C 83p

An analysis of battered women who kill. Is there a case for advocating for the battered women syndrome under the defence of provocation in Zimbabwe? Nyoni, Innocentia 76p

Role of women in peace-building in Kenya: Focusing on the 1992 Rift Valley land clashes. Odongo, Amara G. 90p

Following God’s constitution : the gender dimensions in the Ogiek Claim to the Mau Forest Complex in Kenya. Odour, Jacinta A 70 p`

Domestic violence against refugee women: A case study of Kibondo refugee camps in Western Tanzania. Pima, Janet 70p

Law reform strategies- A critical analysis of the ZWLA lobbying and advocacy program for marriage law reform. [Zimbabwe]. Rueben , Anna 86p by Exploring the legal and social parameters of equal and joint parental responsibility of minor children in Zimbabwe. Ruombwa, Victor 66p

The Zambian Women Parliamentarians’ Caucus: Making in-roads in the legislative process. Talakinu, Carina M. 86p

Women as offenders: The social and legal circumstances of women who commit crimes:
A case study of selected prisons in Malawi. Twea, Stella 87p

Addressing training challenges: The judicial college of Zimbabwe. Zvedi, Olivia 87p